THE TERRITORIES.

Sixty dollars net profit was the result of a Methodist sociable at Olympia last week.

Gilmer & Salisbury have not yet lost a horse by the epizootic on the Corinne and Montana road.

The ice in the Hellgate river, opposite Missoula, was two and a half feet thick on the 28th of February.

After April 1st, a semi-weekly mail will be run from Boise City to Rocky Bar, instead of weekly, as heretofore.

Miss Josie McGrane, Miss Hattie Newell, Miss Bella Grant and Miss Jennie Lee have created a void in Lewiston Society by attending the Catholic Seminary at Walla Walla.

Snow in the Wasatch mining districts is unprecedented in depth, and slides are frequent. Travel in canyons is again limited to snow shoes, and even then extremely dangerous.

Gen. Crook has ordered that the Indians on reservations in his department must be present every morning at roll call. The Indians at first demurred, but now quietly acquiesce.

Charley Forbes, now flourishing in Arizona, claims to be the identical Forbes who figured among the Montana road agents a few years ago. He wears a miniature "Montana neck-tie."

The Olympia Standard has this: It is rumored that Gov. Salomon is likely to be reinstated as Executive of this Territory. Another rumor says that Marshal Kearny will undoubtedly be the "coming man."

Chris. Wiebold and Levi Russell, of Silver Bow, M. T., got into a rowdy altercation on the 8th inst., and words lead, not to blows, but to shots and Russell passed in his checks. Wiebold gave himself up.

The Olympia Courier says: A private telegram has been received in this place stating that J. R. Hayden, Esq., Assessor of Internal Revenue, has received the appointment of Collector in the same department for this district.

Jacob Drake, a convict in the Idaho penitentiary, tried to commit suicide a few days ago, by cutting his throat and stabbing himself in the breast. Being a fleshy man he did not cut into his vitals, and he will probably recover.

The Salt Lake Tribune of March 22d has a flattering complimentary notice of a lecture delivered by Rev. C. C. Stratton, formerly pastor of the M. E. Church, in this city, delivered the evening before, on the subject of "Internal Evidence of the Bible."

The Boise Statesman of the 22d of March says: The epizootic has reached this place, through the Overland Stage Company's horses from the East. Some of their horses at the stage stable have the disease. It works in a mild form, and although all the horses on the line from here to Kelton, 250 miles, have had the disease, none have died.

An exchange says that the Hayden surveying expedition for Montana the coming season will be on a much larger scale than ever, and that thirty or more intelligent young men, in addition to those who will come from the States, will be required when the expedition starts overland from the railroad.

The report recently telegraphed from Fort Benton, of the killing of Hiram Cook and Charles Randolph, by Indians, at Eagle creek, was discredited at the Indian office at the time, there being, as was supposed, no white men in that region of country. The report, however, turns out to be true. The men were wood choppers and were killed by a party of ten Blackfoot Indians.

The Missoulian of the 7th inst. chronicles the particulars of a suicide in the Bitter Root valley. John Coar—better known as Black Jack—who has for some years resided on Three Mile Creek, near Stevensville, cut his windpipe with a razor on the 27th ult., but was in a fair way of recovering, when, on the 1st instant, he shot himself dead with a pistol, which he had concealed evidently for use on the first occasion when he was not watched. Coar was a native of Ireland and about fifty years of age. Had resided alone in his cabin on the above creek for years, supporting himself by working placer mines adjacent. He was considered eccentric, but not crazy.

Frank Stahlsmith, a well to do miner of Diamond City, M. T., committed suicide on Sunday, March 21, by placing a pistol to his forehead and blowing his brains out. It would appear that the deed was done deliberately, and still the ordinary excuse of "temporary insanity" is probably applicable to this case. A few days previous to killing himself, Mr. Stahlsmith received a letter from the East, which is supposed to have contained bad news, as an unusual depression of spirits took possession of him immediately upon reading it, and from which friends were unable to rally him. He worked several days after this, but asked no questions and answered those of his partner only in monosyllables. On Sunday evening he went to his cabin, made his will, took the Bible given him by his mother on leaving home, and wrote upon a blank leaf therein, "This is a queer world; I am square with it, and I'm going to try the next," and then shot himself.

COOS BAY ITEMS.—Our Empire City correspondent, writing under date of March 26th, sends the following: The steamer Eastport, 58 hours from San Francisco, arrived since the 18th. The schooners Arago, Ivanhoe, Jennie Thelin, Laleta and Concordia sailed for the above port the past week. Several vessels formerly in this trade have entered the Star Line between San Francisco and Portland. Eight hundred tons of coal and three hundred and twenty thousand feet of lumber was shipped on the vessels referred to above.

The Coos Bay News made its first appearance last week under the editorial management of J. M. Siglin—T. G. Owen proprietor.

The Newport Reading Club has been organized and is now in complete working order.

Your paper is meeting with increased favor in this vicinity. Keep up the good work.

Mr. Dement, on the south fork of the Coquille, lost 74 head sheep one night last week, by wolves. The Blue Mountain Coal Company have received a lot of implements for constructing a railroad from the Coquille river to the navigable waters of Coos Bay. The length of the road is eight miles. The company intend to have the road in running order this summer. An examination of the isthmus which divides the waters of Coos Bay and the Coquille, with a view of uniting both by a canal has been made. The survey is very favorable—the highest point being eighty nine feet above low tide water mark, and the distance across less than three quarters of a mile. Wm. Radcliff is building a propeller on the Coquille for the lumber trade between that place and San Francisco.

THE PRESIDENT AND CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald is responsible for the following:

President Grant expressed a desire a few days ago to see Miss Cushman play her celebrated part of "Meg Merrilles," and was presented with a private box at Wall's Opera House. After the first act Mrs. Grant and two friends made their appearance, but no President, although a wait of several minutes had been made. The play proceeded, and between the second and third acts the President made his appearance, when the orchestra, breaking off in the music they were playing, struck up "Hail to the Chief." Regarding this as an unwarranted interruption of the piece, Miss Cushman became indignant and peremptorily demanded that the orchestra stop its servility and that the play proceed. Her order was obeyed.

OREGON.

There are 1763 volumes in the State Library.

The bridge at McLeod's mill in Washington county was washed away last week.

Indian Frank was on trial at Albany last Saturday, on a charge of manslaughter.

The latest curiosity in the natural world is an entirely white grouse found in Lane county last week.

Mr. A. Hinman, ex Collector of Customs at Astoria, will take up his residence at Forest Grove.

The net profits of a sociable given for the benefit of the gallant firemen at Salem, by the ladies, was $200 coin.

There are forty school districts in Benton county. The public school money in the county this year is $2,774 66.

Thirty dozen pairs of hose are turned out daily at the Beaver Hosiery. Sixteen operatives are employed at the manufactory.

The Benton Democrat says in a race between the Gov. Grover and the Alice, going up the river last week, the former came out ahead.

The city election at Eugene will take place April 7th. Candidates are already out in considerable force, for the best offices, of course.

J. D. May, arrested in this city and taken to Linn county for trial on charge of perjury, has been found guilty, and will be sentenced this week.

The exhibition given at Philomath College, last Friday, was largely attended and passed off most agreeably. The musical entertainment in the evening was a superb affair.

Prof. Campbell, of Monmouth, will lecture at Forest Grove next Friday evening. His subject is "The mystery of Death in the Light of Science, Geology and the Bible."

The following gentlemen were elected delegates to attend the Farmers' State Convention from Lane county: T. G. Edwards, Geo. W. Rinehart, Geo. Sovereigns and W. A. Porter.

Rev. C. A. Wooley informs the Corvallis Gazette that up to last Wednesday he had received about $1,000 subscription toward liquidating the debt upon the State Agricultural Farm.

A medical student at Salem has got into the courts on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. He is said to have played himself off on a "heathen Chinese," as a tax collector.

The Roseburg Plaindealer says: "The farmers in the northern part of the valley are sowing much more than the usual amount of grain. And if the railroad company will offer reasonable inducements for shipping, money will be plenty after harvest."

The editor of the Corvallis Gazette has a new sewing machine. Bob Head of the Democrat calls it a "self-raveller" and says "Bro. Carter will have to hold one end of the thread in his teeth till the garments which have been sewed on that machine wear out."

The Board of Directors of the Union University Association at Eugene City, advertise for sealed proposals for the delivery of six hundred thousand brick for the State University building. Also for the necessary stone for the foundation and for the construction thereof.

The Independent says: "The flouring mills at Hillsboro are idle at present, on account of there not being any wheat to be ground just now at the place. These mills have been paying very well all of the time they have been running. They have cleared about $200 per month."

The Pantagraph says: Some lawless characters placed a rail over the track on the railroad just above Wilbur last Friday evening, and as a party who had been to the exhibition were returning home on a hand car, the car was thrown from the track and Mrs. Aiken severely injured.

A party of young men went from Oakland to Wilbur last Friday evening to attend the Academy. On their return trip one of the wheels of the hand car gave way and the young gents found themselves on foot. They were forced to walk about ten miles, which was the closing scene of their exhibition.

The following delegates were chosen to represent Polk county in the Farmer's State Convention at Salem, April 10, 1873: John Allen, B. F. Smith, W. Churchell, W. C. Brown, J. Holly, Jesse Stump, W. E. Clark, Ira Townsend, I. Smith, A. D. Babcock, Thos Blair. Delegate at large, Wm. Rublo.

The Modoc war still lingers, deceptively, in the lap of peace, says the Santa Cruz Sentinel, terrifying the 700 troops encamped near the Lava Beds. Shades of Thermopylæ, why are those unprotected squaws allowed to devastate the fairest portion of Oregon and California, with impunity(?). Get a score or two of San Francisco hoodlums to capture them.

Dr. Merrick, D. G. C., for Oregon and Washington Territory, instituted at Junction City on the evening of the 29th inst., Lee Encampment No. 14, C. R. C., with the following officers: J. J. Johnson, C.; Miss E. O'Donnel, J. C.; A. L. Drison, R. S.; V. Kratz, F. S.; J. A. Hodgins, T.; N. S. Marshall, C. H.; John Calvert, J. G.; W. Guthrie, O. G.

On Friday of last week, Sheriff Parker of Linn county brought to Albany Elias Keeney, who has been indicted for murder in the second degree for the killing of Pelton at Harrisburg last winter. Keeney gave himself up voluntarily. He has pleaded not guilty, been admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000, and is now at large. His trial will begin to-day.

We have received the first number of the Coos Bay News published at Empire City and edited by J. M. Siglin, Esq. It is a real neat little sheet and judging from the first number will be a very readable paper. The editor says he intends to make it the best weekly newspaper published in Coos county. That is a joke to appreciate which the reader must remember that there is none other in the county.

Says the Dalles Mountaineer: "Lieutenant Cazzaro, of the United States Artillery, left on Wednesday morning for the Warm Springs Reservation to muster in and equip the company of Indians that was lately raised there to fight the Modocs. They will be furnished with the Spencer carbine and army saddles and equipments. As soon as they are mustered in and organized, they will proceed south to the scene of the Indian hostilities."

The Corvallis Democrat says: "Geo. Mercer tells us a story of an unfortunate fellow, over in the 'Forks of the Santiam.' He was looking for stock, when a fine deer approached him, and began biting him. He first essayed to run; but the vicious deer held him. He next turned to cursing the last Legislature for passing the game law. But when the animal began to tear his best trowsers, he lost his self control, and slew the 'varmint' in self defense. Heroic man!"

The Forest Grove Independent says: "We were shown by Mr. W. H. Herral, specimens of both of these minerals from his farm three miles west of this city, where he says both may be found in any quantity. The sienna has been tried by Mr. H. McDonald of this city, who says that it works well with oil, and has considerable body. A small quantity of the limestone has been burned, and is found to make a number one article of lime. If a more thorough investigation justifies Mr. Herral's expectations these mines will both be of advantage to the county and State."

A considerable number of the farmers of Marion county met at the Court House in Salem on last Friday, pursuant to a previous call, and after some preliminary conversation organized a Farmers' Club for the county, on the plan recommended by the meeting last January, at Salem. Mr. Thos. L. Davidson was elected President, T. W. Davenport, Vice President, J. Henry Brown, Secretary, and Daniel Clark, Treasurer. Delegates to the State Convention, to be held at Salem, April 10th, were elected as follows: John Minto, John Dowling, Jos. Smith, R. C. Gear, F. X. Matthieu.

The Reporter's correspondent says: "Eight new brick stores have been built at Eugene City during the past year, at a cost of $45,000, that would do credit to any city of a population of 1,600 people. More stores of a similar character will be erected this summer, and the building of a number of good private residences are in contemplation. R. C. Kinney & Son, of Salem, have lately finished a sack warehouse at the railroad station, for storing wheat. J. B. Underwood & Co. are making arrangements to build one this summer that will store 100,000 bushels of wheat in bulk."

An adjourned meeting of citizens was held at Salem last Friday, in the interests of the Prison Association. A Constitution and By-Laws were adopted. The following officers were elected: President, Hon. S. F. Chadwick; Vice Presidents, Rev. W. R. Stewart, Rev. J. L. Parrish, T. B. Rickey; Secretary, T. H. Crawford; Treasurer, J. M. Martin. All citizens of the State who feel interested in the welfare of this class of men—i. e., the convicts, will be solicited to give their influence to this cause by becoming members and taking such a part as their time will allow. The Constitution and By-Laws and a circular letter will soon be sent to every part of the State under the direction of an Executive Committee.

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 30.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The application of Samuel Miller et al., of Stanislaus county, California, to purchase, under the act of July 23, 1866, lands within the rejected Roland grant, has been rejected by the Commissioner of the Land Office.

Minister Bancroft to Remain.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—It is ascertained that the report that Minister Bancroft has signified an intention of resigning has no foundation. Very recent letters from him make no allusion to his alleged wish to retire from diplomatic life. If he had thought seriously of returning home the fact would undoubtedly have been made known to the President or Secretary Fish.

The Union Pacific Railroad.

Perry and Aston, Government counsel, have begun to draw up a bill in equity against the Union Pacific R. R. Credit Mobilier, and stockholders, for money illegally expended in the construction of the road.

Effect of the Big Steal on the Treasury.

Demands on the Treasury for money under the appropriation bills passed during the last few days of Congress have been very heavy, and officials expect in consequence that the coming statement of the public debt during the present month will show an increase.

EASTERN STATES.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The rumor that Marshal Morris goes to Europe on a bridal tour, is denied. An early resumption of his official duties in California is announced.

The Stokes Case.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Poe Pesson, counsel for Stokes, made application to Judge Brady to day to amend the judgment record of Stokes' first trial by inserting the facts of the absence of the Judge and the prisoner during a portion of the trial, and also the affidavits used on the motion for a new trial. The decision is reserved.

Murder and Arrest.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Catherine Kernan (married) was taken from a liquor saloon at No. 61 Washington street, this evening, covered with wounds and blood, and carried to the Park Hospital, where she died. Her husband has been arrested on suspicion. The neighbors say the pair were constantly drunk and frequently quarreling.

Lynch Law in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS, March 28.—Geo. Bryan, a negro, was hanged by a mob at Chillicothe, Mo., on Wednesday night, for committing an outrage on Miss Fisk, a highly respectable young white lady living twenty miles from that place.

McDonald, the Alleged Forger.

NEW YORK, March 28.—It is reported that counsel for McDonald, the alleged forger, will apply for a writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that Commissioner Gutmann is not authorized to sit on extradition cases, and that the charge of conspiracy is not covered by the extradition treaty.

The Brooklyn Murder Mystery.

The Coroner's inquest in the case of Goodrich was begun in Brooklyn this afternoon. Several witnesses have been on the stand, but thus far nothing new has been elicited.

The Centennial Fund.

PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—The aggregate of Centennial subscriptions by the citizens is $873,600, in addition to the two millions appropriated.

Miscellaneous.

NEW ORLEANS, March 28.—Tom Burke, the notorious cabman, was shot and killed by Robert Despey, this morning.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The examination of Jos. Perry, on a charge of perjury in the Jumel will case, was to-day again adjourned.

Judge Brady to-day decided to admit George Francis Train to $10,000 bail, but the prisoner declined to furnish it.

NEW YORK, March 28.—A Washington special says that Minister Stokles telegraphs to Secretary Fish that the Government of the Spanish Republic has ordered the liberation of 10,000 slaves held in Cuba in violation of the law of 1870, of the class called "emancipados."

The Arrest of Bidwell Denounced.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A special from Havana says Bidwell was arrested at the request of the English Government on charges of complicity in forgeries on the Bank of England. Bidwell is not a British subject, but an American, and a native of Indiana. His arrest is not just fied by any treaty of extradition between Spain and the United States, and is declared by lawyers to be illegal and without precedent, except in the case of Arguelles in 1864. They also declare it a violation of the laws of Spain and her treaty stipulations with the United States, and in complete violation of the laws of 1870, relative to foreigners. The British Vice Consul obtained, by compulsion, $5,000 from Mrs. Bidwell in bonds. Complaints concerning this having been made, the Captain-General ordered that the money be deposited. Bidwell expressed the desire to be sent to New York.

Intelligence from the Revolution.

Another special from Havana, dated the 26th, says advices from Remedios reported the desertion of a patriot of Cadiz's battalion from the Spanish colors to the insurgents. In a recent engagement on the other side of old Trocha, between Agramonte and the Spanish forces, the former took sixty prisoners, and shot 59 them. One was spared and sent back with a message to the Spaniards, informing them that monarchists are republicans, that they acted with inhumanity toward the insurgents, and therefore the insurgents give no quarter. Agramonte recently returned with Col Precuell and other prisoners to Puerto Principe. Rubalaba has been executed in the latter city. Another version reports that Agramonte sent Precuell and others in exchange for the insurgent chief, Emilio Luaces, who had been captured by the Spanish forces, but the capture had not been made public.

Feather in the N. Y. Herald's Cap.

A special from Key West says it is surmised among Cubans that the removal of Gen. Cabellos from command of the Spanish forces in Cuba was made because of his threat to shoot O'Kelly, a newspaper correspondent.

The Brooklyn Murder Mystery.

NEW YORK, March 29.—Information derived from the parents of the woman Armstrong, charged with the murder of Goodrich, shows that she was at home on the night of the murder. Mrs. Armstrong was twice married, but her husbands are dead. Her parents are aged, and suffering from poverty. She is their only support. Officers will detain her until the case is thoroughly sifted. She admits having been at Goodrich's house one day last week.

Murder in South Carolina.

A dispatch from Columbus, S. C., says that in Warren county a man named G. Clark probably slaughtered his wife and left her body to be burned. Clark has fled.

The Heathen Chinee at Fallstown.

PITTSBURG, PA., March 29.—Last evening the citizens of Fallstown, near Beaver, Pa., held an indignation meeting to remonstrate against the employment of Chinamen. Delegations from the adjoining towns of New Brighton, Rochester and Beaver Falls were in attendance, and much enthusiasm was expressed. A new mode of warfare, aside from speeches and lengthy resolutions, is to be inaugurated. An organization was effected according to the plan proposed by Dr. Gerrard at the last meeting of the citizens of Beaver Falls. It is an organization of Labor Unions, the members of which pledge themselves not to support, directly or indirectly, any business man who favors Coolie labor. The suggestion was put in the form of a resolution and unanimously adopted by the meeting. Business men, especially merchants, have found it to their interest to remain non-committal on the Coolie question, if they do not absolutely go against the heathen.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From London.

LONDON, March 25.—There has been severe fighting in Spain, in which the Carlists claim an important victory. The Government troops retreated to Grondalires much demoralized, where they were captured by Saballis. A small garrison also surrendered.

There has been a large demonstration at Tarragona in commemoration of the establishment of the Paris Commune.

A street fight occurred in Barcelona in which six men were killed.

Advices from Carlist sources say a full inquiry acquits the case of Santa Cruz from the charge of committing atrocious acts.

It is stated that the Carlists aim at the capture of Pamplona as a base of operations against Madrid.

LONDON, March 29.—The Oxford and Cambridge boat race, this afternoon, causes great interest. Business is almost entirely neglected, and the people are now going to the Thames in great crowds to view the contest. It is the impression that the Cambridge crew will be the victors, and betting is two to one in their favor.

2 P. M.—The Oxfords have suddenly become favorites. There are rumors that the Cantabs have been overworked and that some of the crew are sick.

LONDON, March 29.—The Cambridge crew won the University race by three lengths.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, March 29.—Gold Hill and Virginia are considerably excited over the failure and disappearance of Wilson Dunlap, broker of Gold Hill. Crowds of his late customers are thronging the office all day. An attachment served this morning secured nothing but his books, his safe being empty and his office furniture having been sold to his landlord for rent. The books show between five and six hundred individual accounts. His liabilities are nearly $80,000. Creditors talk of bringing him back, as he is known to have made heavy collections, and even sold his buggy and team yesterday, and taken the proceeds of these transactions with him.

BAKERSFIELD, March 29.—A thousand bars of bullion (eighty thousand pounds) arrived to-day by ox teams. The epizootic has materially affected transportation to and from the Cerro Gordo mines. About eighteen thousand bars of bullion, valued at six hundred thousand dollars, now lies at the foot of Owens' lake, awaiting transportation. The mining interests of Cerro Gordo were never so prosperous as now. The great scarcity of water has been a considerable drawback to extensive operations. A limited supply is selling for from 7 to 15 cents per gallon. This state of affairs has induced the formation of a Water Company, with a capital of $200,000. Contracts for the construction of the works have been let, and the works will be completed by July next. The source of supply is Diamond Springs, 11 miles north of Cerro Gordo.

A large bed of borax has been discovered at the head of Kern Lake.

OROVILLE, March 29.—On Friday night our town was cursed by one of those terrible calamities that always appal communities. About 10 o'clock at night, Rosco Marchella, a wholesale and retail liquor dealer, was shot in the back, the ball passing entirely through his body and lodging in the vest in front. He lived in great agony for some time, but the wound caused death about daylight. A man by the name of John Ross was arrested the same night and is now in jail. To-day a coroner's inquest was held, and Ross was accused by them. Ross was in bed at the time he was arrested; but to-day the officers found a pistol secreted under a board near the hotel where he boarded, which is said to be Ross' pistol. No one witnessed the shooting.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—Ah Ling has been sentenced to the State Prison for ten years for the murder of Sam Quinn.

Frank Rogers pleaded guilty this morning in the Police Court of conspiracy with Thomas Boylan to place a German boy Dietrich Hanson on board a ship, and of fraudulently signing the name of Charles Anderson to the ship's papers for Boylan, who got one hundred dollars for the man. Hanson was brought off the vessel by the police. Boylan will now have to answer before the court for his part in the infamous transaction.

There were sixty seven deaths here during the past week.

Levi Parsons has filed a claim for many hundreds of thousands of dollars against the Pioche estate. One is an account claim for $241,248, and another for the Willows lands at the Mission. The executors claim that he is indebted to the estate $67,723.

Mrs. Page, of Vallejo, is rapidly recovering from the terrible injuries which her husband inflicted upon her.

A private dispatch from Hongkong states that a British steamer would sail from that port for San Francisco, April 10th.

The European and Oregon Land Company have elected the following directors: Joseph S. Wilson, President; F. D. Atherton, Vice-President; Wm. C. Ralston, Wm. Norris, John P. Jackson, Thos Brown, M. S. Latham, J. L. Rathbone, Rudolf Sulzbachs, Francis Avery, and Jesse Holladay. The Company have charge of the land grants of the Oregon & California Railroad Company.

Subscriptions are being taken for the capital stock in a new trust and banking company in this city. All the particulars of the new enterprise have not been made public yet.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Prof Lay's gas balloon broke loose from her moorings this morning at Woodward's Gardens and sailed rapidly into the upper void alone and uncontrolled. The air ship mounted almost perpendicularly and was soon so high as to be invisible. It took an easterly course.

Timothy Reardon was thrown from a hospital ambulance yesterday afternoon and received injuries which resulted in his death last evening.

Last night the dead body of Charles Poffe, a German, 60 years of age, was found at the grave of his wife in Odd Fellows' cemetery. He had decorated her tomb with flowers, taken poison, and died there.

The trial of H. McCausland will be terminated this afternoon with the testimony of two witnesses for the prosecution in rebuttal of the prisoner's statement that he never insulted Mrs. Mullendore, wife of the deceased McCausland. In his testimony to-day, said Mullendore had threatened to kill him like a dog, and that when they met on the fatal night deceased rushed upon him with a drawn knife. Previous to that they had been on intimate friendly terms.

The Ajax sailed for Portland to-day with quite a large number of passengers.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—The McCausland murder case was submitted to the jury this evening; but they have not yet agreed upon a verdict. His friends were confident of an acquittal.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—Charles Mortimer was called up for sentence this morning in the District Court. Dennison, counsel for Mortimer, moved to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial. After argument the motion was overruled and the prisoner was sentenced to be hung on Friday, May 16th. Mortimer displayed no emotion on receiving this sentence.

STOCKTON, March 29.—Wilkins, city collector, died this morning from wounds and injuries received last Tuesday night. Durkin and Hall are held on suspicion of being his murderers.

SACRAMENTO, March 29.—A Coroner's inquest was held to-day on the body of Miss Coates, at Gold Hill, Placer county. The result of the inquest has not transpired. There were no marks of violence on the body when found. The hands were tied together in front, her wearing apparel much torn and disordered, and the sack drawn tightly over her head, and tied down at the waist. The general opinion is that the girl was suffocated. The theory that she had been outraged, then murdered is discredited. A physician of Auburn has made an examination of the body, but found no evidence whatever to substantiate that view. A resident of Gold Hill thinks he recognizes the sack as the former property of the girl's father. Many inclined to the opinion that the father committed the crime, and that after its commission, the excitement caused his death, he having been subject to heart disease.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Fire at Corvallis—Loss of Life.

CORVALLIS, March 29.—About 1 o'clock this morning the City Hotel, of this place, was discovered to be on fire, and in a short time the building and nearly all the furniture were entirely consumed. The occupants of the building had barely time to make their escape. A portion of the remains of Mr. John Murray, of Junction City, were found among the ruins this morning. Mr. Frank Johnson, of Portland, made his escape from a second story window without serious injury, but lost his clothing and all he had with him. Mr. Al Wright's man, Jack Sheppard, and some others had barely time to escape in a similar manner. The fire is supposed to have originated in a lamp-room in the center of the building. Adjoining buildings were saved by extra exertions of the fire department, without much damage. Loss estimated at $5,000; insured for $1,500.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

From Victoria.

VICTORIA, March 29.—The bark Almatia, Capt. Frils, while being towed down from Burrard Inlet on Saturday night, was run ashore in trying to make Plumper's Pass. The vessel will probably become a total loss. No lives lost.

A daring robbery and attempt at murder was committed on Mr. J. C. Dieter, at New Westminster, on Friday night last. About 12 o'clock two men in masks entered while he was in the act of locking the safe, and seized, gagged and bound him. They then opened the safe and abstracted the money. They then raised Dieter and took him about one and a-half miles from town and proceeded deliberately to beat in his head with clubs and stones. When they thought him dead they fled. Toward morning, Dieter recovered consciousness and managed to crawl to the road, where he was discovered by a passer-by, covered with blood and almost dead. A hue and cry was immediately raised, and the country is being scoured for the perpetrators of the outrage. Dieter was only married three weeks ago. His recovery is considered very doubtful.

The Prince Alfred arrived at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from San Francisco, and is advertised to sail on Wednesday.

H. M. S. Tenedos, with the Lieutenant-Governor, will go to the west coast to-morrow, to stop the throat-cutting now going on among the natives.

The Massachusetts Legislature proposes to appropriate $50,000 for Professor Agassiz' Museum at Cambridge.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 29.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The Treasury Department recently somewhat modified its action relative to the transportation of bonded goods to inland cities. It has hitherto held that goods in bond may only be transported in sealed cars, duties thereon to be collected at the place of destination. The Department has recently permitted some wine goods to be transported from Baltimore to Chicago in open cars, one-half of the duty being paid at the port of entry, and the other half at the inland port, after due appraisement. This may be a possible precedent for other concessions valuable to Pacific commerce.

The Last of the Ku Klux Scare.

Notices served on witnesses in the Ku Klux cases in the Eastern District of North Carolina excusing them from attendance on the spring term of the court have led to the belief that the country has nearly heard the last of Southern conspiracy against peace and good order. It is nearly two years since a case of violence in the South has been traced to the Ku Klux organization, and Southern men believe that nothing can do so much to restore good feeling in certain portions of the Southern States as Executive clemency toward Ku Klux conspirators now confined in Northern prisons.

The revenue from customs and excise bids fair to show an increase instead of a diminution, by the legislation of last Congress reducing taxation. The present probability is that there will be $200,000,000 from customs this year, and possibly $210,000,000, being much in excess of the estimates of the internal revenue receipts thus far about $80,000,000. The total for the year will probably approach $116,000,000 as against $110,000,000 estimated.

Wm. H. Claggett, late Delegate from Montana, has been appointed special counsel of the General Government to investigate alleged frauds against Indians in Montana.

EASTERN STATES.

The Brooklyn Murder Mystery.

NEW YORK, March 29.—It is not probable that the woman Myers or Armstrong will be arraigned for the murder of Goodrich, but will only be held as a witness for the present. She will not be released on bail or allowed to see the counsel who have been retained in her behalf. Police officers are unwilling to furnish any further information for the press. They say they have evidence which will create a sensation when it is divulged. It is rumored that Lucietta Myers has made a confession, by which it appears that the murder was committed by a Spaniard by the name of Pedro Rosave, in revenge for a fancied wrong connected with some woman with whom both were acquainted. Lucietta was a witness of the murder. Detectives have gone to Baltimore in search of Rosave, to which place he fled.

Summary Disposal of a Wife Murderer.

PHILADELPHIA, March 29.—Chas. J. Cloak, charged with wife murder, was before the Court to-day on habeas corpus, and a plea of insanity. The Court declined to listen to the evidence and remanded the prisoner to jail for trial without bail.

Arkansas News.

LITTLE ROCK, March 29.—A. C. Stillwell and D. H. O. Connell, both well known citizens, got into a personal difficulty last night, in which the latter was shot by the former, and it is thought mortally wounded.

There was a prize fight near here to day between Jack Madden, of St. Louis, and Bill Ward, of Chicago. Seven rounds were fought. Ward was declared winner.

Gone to Europe.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The following San Franciscans sailed for Europe to-day: L. H. Sanderson, M. Plattshek; H. Falk, J. Meyer and M. Cohn; also ex Senator Corbett and wife, of Oregon.

NEW YORK, March 29.—A Herald special from Barcelona, March 25th, via London, March 29th, says a sharp battle was fought near Vich, in the province of Catalonia, 50 miles north of Barcelona, on Sunday, March 23d, in which the government troops were seriously handled and beaten by the combined attack of several bands of Carlists under Cavalo.

Departure of Mori.

BOSTON, March 29.—The Japanese Minister, Mori, sailed for Liverpool to-day.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh.

LONDON, March 29.—Arrangements for the marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh with the daughter of the Czar have certainly been made. On the night upon which the Gladstone Government was defeated, the Premier received at a private dinner, the Duke of Edinburgh, at which it is supposed final details of the arrangements for the marriage were discussed and decided upon.

Glasgow stockholders in the Emma mine, have held an indignation meeting and appointed a committee to investigate the affairs of the company, and represent them at the approaching annual meeting in London.

LONDON, March 29.—The Prussian Minister of the Interior has been beaten in all his suits against the newspapers which published the Papal allocution.

Reconsiders its Hasty Utterances.

BERLIN, March 29.—The North German Gazette reviews its article published some time since ridiculing the inaugural address of President Grant. The Gazette says the full text of the address differs from the telegraphic summary, and for that reason it is led to considerably modify its views.

From Paris.

PARIS, March 29.—A Court Martial sitting at Versailles has sentenced Felix Pyatt, ex-Communist, to death in contumacion.

In the Assembly to-day there was an excited debate over Prince Napoleon's petition praying for restoration of his rights as a citizen and remonstrating against his illegal expulsion from France.

A Washington dispatch of the 24th instant says:

The Senate met at noon to day. The Vice President laid before the Senate the following letter of resignation from Senator Caldwell of Kansas:

WASHINGTON, March 24.

To Hon. Henry Wilson, Vice President of the United States—Sir: I do hereby very respectfully notify through you the Senate of the United States that I have resigned and do resign my seat in that body as a Senator from Kansas, and that I have forwarded by mail, postage prepaid, addressed to the Chief executive officer of that State at Topeka, Kansas, a resignation in the following form:

"UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER,
March 24.

"To His Excellency the Governor of Kansas, Topeka—Sir: I hereby respectfully tender you my resignation as a Senator of the United States from the State of Kansas, to take effect immediately. Very respectfully your obedient servant,
"ALEXANDER CALDWELL."

I have also delivered in person to the Hon. Thos. A. Osborn, the Governor of Kansas, now in this city, a duplicate of the paper forwarded, whose acknowledgement of the receipt thereof is herewith inclosed. Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

ALEXANDER CALDWELL.

WASHINGTON, March 24th.

To the Hon. Alexander Caldwell—Sir: I hereby acknowledge the receipt of your letter of this day resigning your seat in the Senate of the United States as a Senator from the State of Kansas. Very respectfully your obedient servant,
THOS. A. OSBORN, Governor of Kansas.

The State Journal's Washington correspondent says: "It will be remembered that on the 8th day of January last, Lieut. Bradley, a clerk in the War Department, in compliance with a resolution of the Senate of January 6th, sent a report, which had been previously prepared for the occasion, to the Senate, making serious charges against Oregon Indian War claims and those engaged in their collection. The resolution called for information relative to expenses incurred by the Territories of Washington and Oregon in the suppression of Indian hostilities in the year 1856, but this subordinate army officer had mixed up 1854-5 with 1856, and sent in this report, covering 68 printed pages, giving information not called for, and making a most malignant attack on the claimants and on the Treasury Department. On the 1st of March the Secretary of the Treasury sent to the Senate a letter addressed to him by Allen Rutherford, Third Auditor, replying to those charges. The reply only covers four printed pages, but it explains the whole subject, is very pointed, and places the officious under-strapper in the War Department in a very unenviable and ridiculous position."

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH [illegible] 1873

The Twins in Misfortune

The dispatch [illegible] to confirm much that was said through the [illegible] list [illegible] what that paper [illegible] charge [illegible] for interference to Mr Holladay [illegible] in connection with the railroads of this State. The [illegible] a little [illegible] but [illegible] to have tended to show that the editor of the Herald at that time knew what he was about.

It is certainly very remarkable that the Herald should have chosen this [illegible] juncture to go over to the cause of Mr Holladay when the fortunes of that individual appear to be on the wane. It is common for men [illegible] to do homage to the rising sun, but this [illegible] would [illegible] an exception. We can believe the Democratic party, if there is any such party in existence, capable of almost any degree of folly upon political questions. That party was long ago given over to believe all manner of untruths, that it might be damned, but we miss our guess if the Herald's readers will consider it due to their political creed to follow their organ into the arms of the railway master. We suppose the mass of the Herald's readers to be honest, however heretical their political faith may be, and therefore we cannot conceive it to be possible that they can be transferred to the Holladay ring along with their organ. What the Herald predicted when it was honestly conducted, may never come to pass, so far as relates to the collapse of Holladay's scheme, though at the present time that event appears by no means improbable, but the early collapse of the Herald it would seem is a foregone conclusion unless its new master shall come out liberally for its maintenance. Whether he will do this or not remains to be seen. One would suppose the sustenance of one daily paper would be about as great a tax upon his purse as he would like to make in that direction, especially if, as rumor says, he is about to be retired from the prominent place heretofore occupied by him in connection with the management of the enterprises, to promote which he has kept up the Bulletin so long and at such large expense. And besides as we remarked a few days ago, it is impossible to perceive what use he could expect to make of the Herald, unless simply to gratify his extraordinary vanity by its venal adulation, for since the disbandment of the Democratic party, the Herald represents no political organization, and its attempt to betray its readers into hands of the railway ring could not fail to destroy whatever influence the paper may have had independently of party considerations.

We entertain no very strong feelings of ill will toward either of these twins in misfortune, although we cannot but condemn some things in the public and private morals of both. Though unlike honest "John Anderson my jo," and his good spouse, they have not "clam the hill thegither," nevertheless, if they "maun totter doun hand in hand," we hope they may "sleep thegither at the foot" in the most serene and undisturbed peace.

A prominent Republican of Linn county writes at the close of a private letter:

> It looks as if our Republican Senator is going back on his party. It appears that the Republicans have nobody that can fill the position of Postmaster. If that is the condition of the party it is a poor party. But that is not the trouble. Anything to keep the monopolist in power, and it seems that the worse a man's political record the better he is supposed to be fitted for positions of confidence. So a man will give his support to the railway monopoly and do the bidding of a lot of political gamblers, he is all right whether he has been a Democrat or a Republican. If this is Republicanism I don't want much of it."

There is truth in these remarks, but we hope our friend will not despair of the old party. The temporary subversion of the organization to the purposes of a little ring who are willing to make merchandise of its fortunes to aggrandize themselves and fill their pockets with plunder is not the death of the party. Condemned and disowned by the uncorrupted masses the ring are already showing evidences of a desire to form an alliance with that corrupt element in the Democratic party whose selfish greed of place and lucre overthrew the party in this city. The true Republicans of the State have only to stand by the flag and all will be right. Do not desert the ship because the man at the helm is not trustworthy, but rather be vigilant and seize the first opportunity to rescue it and put it on its old course. The best thing to do with a car that has "jumped the track" is to jump it back again.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Sun mentions Gen Hawley of Connecticut, as a possible New England candidate for the next Presidency. Gen Hawley it will be remembered, distinguished himself in the Credit Mobilier trial as an uncompromising advocate of the punishment of the parties indicted by the Poland report and later by his fearless denunciation of the salary steal. His attitude on the latter question was remarkable for high toned morality and spirit of independence. To such men as this is the nation looking for a regeneration of the public conscience. There were others in the Forty Second Congress who were quite as well convinced of the enormity of this transaction, but among them all this Connecticut Congressman stood out, almost alone in his manly appeals for the people's cause. In the words of the Springfield Republican "Honest people all over the country like the way he has started out and will keep their eyes on him."

The gentleman who wrote the famous autobiography of the master of the railway ring for the Mercury last September is grieved and justly too, that our Yamhill correspondent whose letter appeared last Saturday should have mentioned him as the present editor of the Herald. He is an entirely different person. The error of our correspondent was doubtless wholly unintentional but as it is liable to injure the standing of the gentleman named, to be thus alluded to in a public journal, we embrace this earliest opportunity to set the matter right.

Illinois wants it to be understood that the Congressmen who voted to increase their salaries are not to be sheltered in that iniquity [illegible] the cloak of Republicanism. [illegible] resolution [illegible] her representatives who voted to give a million and a half into the railway [illegible] Forty second Congress was [illegible] by a vote almost unanimous — [illegible]

We have [illegible] proof [illegible] on [illegible]

A Literary Curiosity

There were laid on our table yesterday parts of one of the oldest documents printed on this northwest coast. The book of which those leaves were a portion was Bible stories [illegible] reading lesson —translated into the Nez Perce Indian language and printed by Rev [illegible] Walker now of Forest Grove. [illegible] We learn that Mr Walker [illegible] a printer [illegible] work [illegible] The type [illegible] from [illegible] Sandwich Islands [illegible] away [illegible] the time the same that was afterwards used by Mr Griffin [illegible] Oregon's first newspaper [illegible] and the job [illegible] mechanically [illegible] stand [illegible] of the [illegible] work of the present day. As this [illegible] is something of a literary curiosity aside from its historical association we [illegible] a short specimen that our readers may have some idea of its unique appearance promising that we do not engage to furnish translations.

Ah Sin among the Cutlers

When any considerable number of American citizens think themselves aggrieved by events their first motion is to "indignate." Mass meetings are called. Then they "resolute." It is then considered that the object is accomplished, and so they disperse. It was thus at Beaver Falls. One hundred and ninety Chinamen were employed in the cutlery works at that place, on a contract for a term of years. Some of the white operatives were disgusted. They left their employers. Then ten others were dismissed because they declined to instruct the moon eyed Celestials in their art. Then, true to the American instinct these outraged Caucasians "indignated" in proper style. Also they "resoluted" as follows to wit:

Resolved That we as citizens of Pennsylvania living where all should dwell in equity and harmony and as Chinese labor is contrary and against citizen labor we deprecate all such labor as dangerous to our peace and safety.

The Springfield Republican of March 14th says: "A party of the North Pacific railroad directors leave next week for the Pacific coast for the purpose of closing important arrangements for the construction of a new and long section of their line on that side the Rocky Mountains. The board of directors, just reconstructed now consists of the following gentlemen: William G Fargo George W Cass, R D Rice, Charles B Wright, William B Ogden, Frederick Billings of Vermont, J G Smith, William G Moorhead A H Barney, William Windom James Stinson, B P Chaney, Albert H Catlin."

Several of the San Francisco journals are exceeding wroth at Secretary Robeson on account of the "arbitrary arrest" of R D Bogart formerly a reporter of the Chronicle in that city. The latter paper demands the removal of Secretary Robeson and remarks, ingenuously:

> The Secretary of the Navy is a subordinate officer, and President Grant must be held responsible for the outrageous arrest of Bogart, or promptly disavow the same by the removal of Secretary Robeson which we are convinced he will do when the facts are laid before him.

The Herald steals one of the smuttiest and most pungent of Prentice's witty thrusts— the one that Prentice applied to Mr H. W Scott the only time he ever took any notice of him, all remember it and shoots it off at us as original. We acknowledge service, but we decline to appropriate the stolen property. Prentice knew where it was most applicable, and we cannot consent to be a party to disturbing his disposition of it.

William N Young a son of Brigham saint and prophet was arrested and fined in San Francisco a few days as a "drunk and disorderly." He expressed himself as greatly disappointed at the manner in which the Bay City treated her guest and invited the police officer who captured him to "come to Salt Lake City where, as he expressed it, "they would give him a jolly good turn without throwing him into the lock up."

Frank Pixley says of the San Francisco Bulletin [illegible] Pickering, suggests that the method of boring for gold with diamond drills should be generally resorted to by miners. We would suggest that Pickering should adopt the method of boring for truth with any kind of a drill. It might be more successful than the methods he at present employs which only result in boring his subscribers. Very rough that.

Says the Roseburg Pantagraph: The Holladay organ has given us "tat." "Hero" is our tit. It asks "How long must a man serve to be a Republican if he was once a Democrat?" It is our opinion he must serve until he conscientiously believes that the Republican party is right when he abandons the "Bread and Butter Brigade." Has your pet Cole done this?

A rumor reaches us from Salem that Crandall has determined to use that eight hundred dollars with all the interest accruing on it, to employ Nast to come out to Oregon and get up a magnificent engraving to illustrate the famous Waldo Hills scene. The picture will be entitled "Burying the Hog." Put our name down for a copy, Captain.

The governments of Peru and the United States of Colombia have signed a protocol which provides for sending a commission of engineers and scientists to accompany the exploring expedition from the United States in the prosecution of the inter oceanic canal across the Isthmus of Darien.

The Washington Chronicle is authority for the statement that Archbishop Purcell, of Cincinnati warns any Catholic who connects himself with a trade union or kindred society that makes use of an oath in its initiation, that he thereby cuts himself off from the body of the faithful.

The Metropolitan Gas Company has notified the City of New York that unless the debt which the city government now owes— amounting to nearly one million of dollars— be paid the company will stop the gas for streets and public buildings.

We predict a prosperous career for the Forest Grove Independent, the second number of which made its appearance last Saturday. It is one of the most spirited of the valley weeklies and deserves well of the people of Washington county.

A Letter from Junius

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

His Lordship of Oregon, after introducing his most useful henchmen to the field of his future labors rewarding his free lance with the postoffice in Portland displacing those Republican office holders who believed not in his title to the State or party, and successfully evading for a sufficient length of time to subserve his own interest the process of our courts has returned. That he did not do more while absent toward his friends and punish his enemies resulted from a lack of will [illegible]. What he has done shows that, to regard [illegible] his own desire [illegible] the quality of the politics of his henchmen but the quality of work they are capable of doing, not the opinion of any political party but the capacity of being low enough in any party—men known only to himself—and attachment to nothing save his own desperate fortunes.

While the fertility of his Lordship's genius only enabled him in other countries to establish a pony express upon the capital of his partners and afterward securely invest that capital, an express that paid a large profit on its profit exclusive of its ponies and mules expended in Indian warfare for its owner's future benefit—to run by means thus acquired a few poor steamships with Government subsidies as a base of expenses and the entire freights and passages as a scale of profits until he was enabled to buy good ones enough to seal the port of Portland to all competition, yet it has been reserved for us in Oregon since his residence here to see the full development of his genius that never yet has stated to sacrifice every thing for the public good that was compatible with his own self interest, and he has astonished even those among us who had known somewhat of his indifference to public opinion, the subtlety of his plans and the unscrupulous audacity with which he had hitherto braved the one and accomplished the other.

That which he has already done for us in Oregon has created obligations grievous to be borne should he do more, we should be crushed under their weight. By a gift to him by the Government of lands and franchises, the property of the people, held in trust for her citizens by that Government he has been enabled to issue $10,950,000 of bonds to build a railroad and has sold these bonds to foreign capitalists for little more than half that amount. As his own contractor he has built 200 miles of that road from Portland to Roseburg. He has created a freighting monopoly that has saddled the people of Oregon with the payment of nearly $700,000 per year interest to the foreign bondholders, and he is now said to be without money to build any more of the road to the great satisfaction and worldly profit of himself and his hangers-on and worshippers. Thus hath he made the gifts of the people to him their curse and their own franchises and lands the means of oppressing and enslaving them and enriching himself.

By the use of money so acquired he has endeavored to control all business that could bring money to his pocket. From dealing in town sites to cutting cordwood nothing has been too great or too contemptible for him to enter into, and in all, the vast means placed at his command by this admirable career have been used to monopolize everything that could by possibility swell his ill gotten gains.

In order the more thoroughly to rivet the chains with which his railroad monopoly has bound the people, he seeks also to monopolize the carrying trade on the Wallamet by a line of boats and is now attempting to crush out the rival line by a profuse expenditure of the money which he did not have on hand to finish his railroad.

Common feelings of gratitude toward a government that had, by its ill guarded munificence, given him opportunities for personal gain such as no citizen had a right to expect, and he even least of all should have made him content, under such circumstances, to have simply grown rich on its bounty, without attempting to debauch a citizens, disorganize its political parties, and corrupt its legislature. Common decency should have taught him that an adventurer, having only such a capital as he had succeeded in getting, and in such a way, should not be forward in the public affairs of a State until his abilities for leadership were voluntarily called for by the people, his knowledge of political science commensurate with his financial skill, his honesty a tithe of his ambition and the sum of all his good qualities at least half as great as his greed for gain. That feeling which cannot be banished from the breast of even the most abandoned character—pity— pity for the people whose property and rights he had taken under a pretence to do them a benefit, but whom he had bound hand and foot, in the chains of triple monopolies, should have prevented him from attempting, after having robbed them of their property, to rob them of their liberties by building up a personal monarchy for himself, founded on the corrupting power of wealth unscrupulously used in every relation of life, political or otherwise, in which the citizen should be left pure untrammeled and uncorrupted. Without regard to common gratitude, in violation of common decency and with no feelings of pity for the people whom he had outraged, he has attempted, in the pursuit of wealth, a career in this State which should subject him to the abiding political distrust and watchfulness of all high minded men, and the determined hostility of all true men of whatever party, who desire to preserve their parties free from corruption. I shall hereafter notice that career more particularly. JUNIUS

PORTLAND March 29 1873

In Memoriam

PORTLAND, March 30, 1873

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

In view of the entire demoralization and rout of the Democratic party we can afford to refrain from striking it when it is down, and we even feel now, since our victory is overwhelming and complete, a certain sad tenderness for and gentle recollection of the grand old Democratic party in the days of its power and pride. We do not forget its arrogance nor the self satisfied manner in which it smote its breast and exclaimed "vox pop uli vox De i" nor do we forget that it originated and lived up to a maxim which we did not originate but which we do live up to fully: "To the victors belong the spoils," nevertheless we remember that under its guidance the child emerged from its swaddling clothes and grew up to manhood. Were it not that we belong by acclamation to the party of progress, and might lay ourselves liable to the charge of "old fogyism" we would almost, sometimes, be tempted to sigh for the mythical good old times. As it is we feel for the defunct party as the better men in it felt upon the disruption of the Whig party. In either case there was the feeling of self superiority at having overcome "foemen worthy of their steel."

We have unwittingly strayed into this sombre moralizing from seeing the last plank knocked from under the Oregon Democracy, by the Herald's—its chief organ—yielding its allegiance to Mr Holladay. Without a doubt all the unsubsidized whatever may have been their differences on greater topics, were a unit in their dislike for the man and his measures. They regarded him as a Falstaff without the brilliant points of Falstaff, "a contaminator of youth a reverend iniquity," and as the adipose Alderman remarks in his farewell card, they knew his shameless attempts to manipulate voting in this State whether popular or representative. Consequently, they do not like to be turned over to him like "dumb driven cattle" by a bill of sale. The bulk of the Democracy regarded him as exactly the converse of Philip of Macedon. When Philip after really great achievements, was fearful that he would become arrogant, he employed one of his servants to cry aloud to him, three times a day "Oh Philip, thou art but a man." This converse in character, however, hires his servants to fire salutes to him appertaining to a rear admiral whilst his retainers, with "bated breath and whispering humbleness," address him as a god. (They didn't say though that Coyles laughed while he was doing it.) It is suggested that there should be a love feast and that the exercises open with the old hymn slightly altered to suit circumstances:

Hark the Herald angel sings
Glory to the new born Kings.

These lines will be recognized as doubly appropriate when we call to mind that a certain coin of English money is called an angel.

There is a movement on foot in the circles of Eastern Democracy looking to the organization of a new party whose creed shall be based on more liberal views. The Washington Republican of the 24th inst says that the visit of Governor Hendricks to that city is in the interest of this movement. It also says that several private meetings have been held, but without any definite result. It is rumored that Senator Thurman and Representative Brooks decline to enter into the scheme. Of course the project supposes an abandonment of the old organization.

More Expressions of the Oregon Press

The Corvallis Gazette closes its article on the Herald's somersault with this sharp poke:

> Times are dull, money is scarce, but the litigant chaps must keep up an appearance, no matter where the money comes from, and Ben Holladay's money is just as good to them as "any other man's." Guess Ben is sharp enough not to pay more than they are worth to him—he has the reputation of being a judge of such chattels.

> Mr Newell states in his card that he alone is responsible for the articles in question and that they express his own sentiments. This assertion also proves that he is either a knave or a fool. —[illegible]

> "Capt Derby (John Phoenix) the humorist once changed the politics of a Democratic paper at Los Angeles during a visit of the editor to the State Convention by way of a joke but we have never before known such a deliberate violation of professional honor as has been exhibited by Newell of this concern.

> It is a necessity that the Democratic or Reform party should have a daily newspaper at the commercial metropolis of the State and the railroad King will be disappointed if he thinks he can drown the voice of the public by the purchase of any [illegible] no matter how high it may previously have stood in the estimation of the party. —Herald.

> A [illegible] subscription to the Herald (daily), with six months to run, was a day or two since offered on the street for twenty five cents without finding a buyer. —[illegible]

The Pantagraph thus pokes fun at the Broadway Statue who has run the Herald into the ground.

> The Democracy have no organ. One fell swoop of the ponderous paw of Newell has crushed it to earth and forever blighted their hopes of success.

The Omaha people must be dissatisfied with their postmaster. We infer this from the gentle hint of the Omaha Bee: "If the postmaster would resign, many persons would feel less anxious about their money letters."

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, MARCH 31, 1873

CITY.

IN THE WATER.—Yesterday afternoon, as Mr Powers, the second hand furniture dealer was in his stable near the foot of Taylor street, he heard some one feebly shouting, as if in great distress. Thinking it proceeded from some one in the second story, Mr Powers ran out of doors and looked up to see what was the matter. On reaching the edge of the wharf he perceived that the noise came from [illegible]. He looked down between the planks, and to his astonishment discovered a man in the water up to his armpits, clinging to a pile and lustily calling for succor. Powers came speedily to the rescue, and after some difficulty relieved the man from his uncomfortable and perilous situation. On reaching terra firma the man was so chilled that he could not walk for some time. He informed his gallant rescuer that he had been in the water for nearly two mortal hours. During that time he had shouted for help until hoarse and exhausted, but owing to the locality being out of the way, no one had heard his cries. The man belonged to a scow which was moored hard by. It appears that he was under the influence of liquor at the time, falling into the water, and in the attempt to reach his boat fell overboard. But for the timely rescue he would soon have perished.

PASTORAL CIRCULAR.—The following pastoral address to the clergy and congregations of the Oregon and Washington Mission, we clip from the Oregon Churchman:

DEAR BRETHREN.—I take this opportunity of calling your attention to the appointed Easter Offering for the Endowment Fund of the Bishop Scott Grammar and Divinity School. Though this fund is slowly increasing, yet it does not gain as rapidly as it should, in view of its great importance to the permanent foundation of this institution. The ground, building, library and apparatus which we already have, are a very good beginning, but they are only a beginning, and if we would make this School what it should be and put it beyond the hazard of financial failure we must not stay our efforts until it is well and fully endowed. Doubtless it will take years to accomplish this, but we who have upon us the responsibilities of the present time should be ready and glad to do our part in this important undertaking. I beg, therefore, that the attention of all our congregations be called to this subject, and that they be asked for liberal offerings and subscriptions on Easter Day next, toward this Endowment Fund.

Faithfully yours, B. WISTAR MORRIS.

AN EYE TO "BIZ."—As a general thing the Steamship Company's dock is deserted on Sunday, and an old Chinaman, who evidently had an optic to business, concluded yesterday to take advantage of that fact. He stealthily gained admission to the lower wharf, and proceeded to fill up an old tow sack which he carried with small bits of broken castings. He succeeded in collecting as much as he could conveniently get away with, and started off, without discovery. After passing the Company's office he made a straight shot for Second street. But the vigilant eye of Capt. Mountain rested upon the retreating form of the thieving Celestial. He shouted to the fellow to stop, but John affected not to hear. Capt Tom made a masterly charge for the enemy, compelling him to stop. He next made John go back and disgorge his plunder on the wharf. The Chinaman proposed to make something out of his labor, for the castings would, assuredly be in the possession of one of the city foundries at an early hour to-day if he had not been detected in his pilfering.

ON THE WAY.—The steamer Ajax sailed yesterday from San Francisco for this port with the following list of passengers: Sol Hirsch, S Sichel, Mrs N W Chapman, T J Gallagher, F Levy and family, M Marks, A Roberts, J Harris, N Wolf, M P Berry, A Wheeler, P C Harper, W H Andersen, I Bloom, S D Rice, W H Faust, Wm Casells, Mrs A Jones and family, Geo E Cole, B Cohn, B Selling, N Goodman, F H Ober, T C Bundy, C Lauer, Miss Lauer, Mrs R T Ladd and daughter, E A Coleman, T Burne, A Klosterman, W C Gibbs, A McAlvay and family, Mrs K McAlvay and two children, Miss Almira Dolan, Richard Cohn, J Galerson and son, Miss H Galerson, D Wardwell, L G Sylvester, Mrs J B Taylor and child, Mrs E Twohelt and child, W H Prather and family, K Chil and family, B F Boothby, C Small, J N Hosley, E Graves, W P Burke, R Potter, A B Wooster, G S Hinsdale, J McAlvay, S F Sifred, W Carrier, G G Turner and wife, S A Clark, T G Young.

ROUGH TIME.—The steamer Oriflamme, which sailed from here on Wednesday last, attempted to pass out on Thursday, but was forced to put back to Astoria in consequence of the extreme roughness of the bar. The water was so boisterous as to put the vessel in jeopardy, while the gale swept everything before it. Even persons could not stand on the vessel's deck without great danger of being blown overboard. The steamer returned to Astoria and remained until Friday noon. The storm abating its violence, the vessel again started out and succeeded in passing to sea after the vexatious detention.

CALIFORNIA ARRIVED.—The steamer California arrived yesterday morning at one o'clock from San Francisco. This steamer, which was for some years on the Portland Victoria route, was withdrawn from this line and transferred to San Francisco last winter. Subsequently she was placed on the Humboldt route. A vacancy being created by the loss of the Geo S Wright, the California was ordered to this port to resume her old line. The Telfair will take the place of the Geo S. Wright. The California brought to this port nothing but freight. She will sail for Victoria in a few days.

SCANDINAVIAN SOCIETY.—The Scandinavian Society of Portland held a meeting last Saturday evening and effected a permanent organization by the election of officers and the adoption of a Constitution. The following officers were chosen: President, M Oswald; Vice President, E Pearson; Secretaries, A F. Anderson and H Krebs; Trustee, D. Wennerberg. A Finance Committee was appointed, consisting of Fred Wilson, John Nielson and L. Sorkelson. Another meeting will be held by the Society to-morrow evening in the Postoffice building at 7 30 o'clock.

CONVOCATION.—The Vancouver Register and Home says: A Missionary Convocation is being held in St. Luke's church this week, a full report of which we must defer till next week. The clergy in attendance are, The Rt Rev B W Morris D D, of Portland; Rev Dr McCarty of this place, Dr Nevius of Portland; Rev. Messrs C R Bonnell of East Portland, J W Selwood of Oregon City, and Geo. Burton of Portland. The most of the clergy will leave to-day. Bishop Morris will preach on Sunday. In the evening he will preach a sermon to young men.

CAME TO ANCHOR.—In tow of the tug boat Ben Holladay, the two schooners Para[illegible] and Marietta, attempted to cross the bar several times since, but the state of the weather forced an abandonment of the attempt. The wind blew a perfect hurricane, and the breakers came rolling in with such force that it was deemed extremely hazardous to proceed further. The vessels returned to a point opposite Fort Stevens where they are now lying at anchor, awaiting the option of the elements.

BLOWN DOWN.—A terrible gale passed over the city at an early hour yesterday morning. The only damage we have heard of the wind committing was to the telegraph line. The tall staff raised several years ago at the bone yard by the O. S. N. Co., was broken midway up its length and the several wires stretched across the river were precipitated into the water. The staff on the east side escaped unharmed. Telegraphic communication will be interrupted for a few days until the damage can be repaired.

BAILING OUT.—After much difficulty and great labor the scow, to which was attached the pile driver, that sank several days ago alongside the Tenaya, has been raised to the surface of the water by means of ropes and tackle fastened to the ship's rigging. A number of men are engaged in bailing the craft out, and will soon have her floating. The machinery, however, has not been recovered yet.

COMING.—The Waldron Troupe, consisting of Mr and Mrs Waldron, Mr. and Mrs Crosbie, Misses Cleaves, Barrows and Piercy, are now at Olympia, and have been performing at that place during the past week. A letter from a member of the company states that the troupe will start for Portland to-day. They may be expected to arrive here about Wednesday.

COMES UP.—The case of Robert Yost, charged with larceny by bailee, will come up for trial in the Police Court this morning.

PATENT NIPPERS.—The press not unfrequently contain paragraphs advertising in terms of censure to the brutality of policemen. Instances are often cited where policemen employ violent measures to arrest persons and compel them to go to jail. These cases generally have two sides. There is no doubt but what many policemen in the discharge of their duties use force and a degree of violence far in excess of what may be actually necessary. It is also true that officers are compelled to deal with every class and condition of humanity, are daily brought in contact with persons of great physical strength, vicious habits and violent dispositions. Sometimes an officer encounters single handed, a drunken bully, who refuses to be arrested or to proceed to jail. No other officer is near by to assist, and the policeman has to "back water," as the saying is, or else knock down and brutally maltreat his prisoner. Numerous contrivances have been invented to enable an officer to cope with a man under all circumstances, without a resort to extreme, violent measures. A stout rawhide cord, several inches long and about the size of a large pencil, attached to two neatly turned sticks, is a favorite and effective weapon in the hands of a resolute guardian of the peace. When placed around the wrist of the prisoner, and both sticks grasped, the policeman can "fetch" his man nine times out of ten, despite his resistance. But a much superior contrivance has lately been patented by a Mr Phelps of New York. Some time ago Chief Lappeus heard of it and sent for a dozen of the patent "nippers," as they are called. They consist of a large pair of steel nippers, one portion of which encloses the wrist similar to a hand cuff, and the other part is held in the hand. The slightest turn of the hand produces such excruciating pain to the prisoner's wrist, that after a few vigorous turns, he is willing to follow the officer without resistance. These nippers are by far the most severe weapon we have yet seen. By its use there is no necessity to beat a resisting prisoner, when an officer has one of these effective instruments. We are gratified to note that the Chief of Police has concluded to adopt these "potent persuaders."

FOR ILLICIT INTERCOURSE.—A charge was preferred in the Police Court against a man named H Wolf and a woman known as Miss Zelmer, on last Saturday, accusing the defendants of living together in open adultery. In default of bail, both were committed. Subsequently Wolf obtained bonds and was released. Yesterday the woman was pronounced by a physician to be too ill to remain with safety in the jail. She was released on her own recognizance, and if able this morning to appear, the case will come up for examination. For the present, comments are deferred.

POLICE RECORDS.—During the month of March, which will end to-day, there have been 111 arrests made by the police force of the city, classified as follows: State cases, 35; city, 76. This is far below the average arrests for many past months.

OUR SALEM CARRIER.—Claude Gatch will hereafter distribute the OREGONIAN to those wishing it delivered at their place of business or residence in Salem. He is a wide awake little fellow, and any orders entrusted to him will meet with prompt attention.

AT KALAMA.—Mrs A. J. Duniway will deliver a lecture at Kalama this evening.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Several vessels due.

Steamer due on Tuesday.

A stormy disagreeable day yesterday.

The bark Free Trade is now at Astoria.

Vivian is at the Alhambra, San Francisco.

No more quail on toast—for three months.

The bark Gemini is still lying below Astoria.

Large mail was brought up on the California.

The river has risen several feet within three days.

Forty-six sacks of mail arrived on the California.

Some damage done by the storm yesterday morning.

All the churches of the city were well attended yesterday.

Eggs coming in lively and prices down to 18 and 20 cents.

But few promenaders were visible yesterday on Fourth street.

"Let's irrigate," is the latest mode of saying "Let us smile."

The Gov Grover will leave this morning for the upper Wallamet.

Long train skirts are not just the style for street walking at present.

The East Portland Band practice every Sunday afternoon at East Portland.

The steamer Gussie Telfair will probably not sail for Sitka until to-morrow evening.

The large arbor in Capt. Ainsworth's garden was thrown down by the storm yesterday.

The Gov Grover arrived on Saturday evening with a large freight and a number of passengers.

The Tenaya will proceed down the river in a few days, she having received all her cargo of grain.

Minnie Myrtle Miller lectured recently at Cincinnati on "The Men and Women of the Pacific Coast."

We met a party of "nimrods" yesterday one of whom remarked that it was the last trip of the season.

We are in receipt of a neat pamphlet issued by the Chicago, Rock Island Railroad Co. As an advertising medium, it is a success.

We were called upon to witness one of those scenes yesterday that we seldom wish to mention, that of a woman in an intoxicated condition.

Messrs. Cook and Andrus will take charge of the Occidental Hotel after to-day, Mr. S. D Smith transferring his interest to these gentlemen. Improvements are being made.

The ladies of the first Presbyterian Church will hold a festival in the basement of the church on Wednesday evening—the proceeds to be applied to the benefit of the Young Men's Christian Association.

A waggishly disposed fellow remarked to us that he thought real estate would soon be lively in Holladay's Addition, East Portland, because he saw the "bow of promise" spanning the heavens in that locality on last Saturday.

Black silks will be much used for rich spring suits, these being made with the sleeveless polonaise and trimmed with ruffles of the same. When the costume consists of overskirt and basque, a loose outside garment accompanies it.

Feathers are much employed for garniture upon the new hats, also scarfs and loops and lappels of gros grain. Flowers and lace also lend their grace and beauty, and rich soft ribbons are used for strings, or wide scarfs of black lace edged with a Chantilly border.

PERSONAL.

Hon James W Nesmith, of Polk county, is now in the city.

Mr J Kelley of the Salem Mercury is now in the city. He gave us a call last evening.

Hon L F Mosher of the Roseburg Plaindealer called last evening. He will remain in the city a few days.

Among the passengers on board the steamer Ajax, now on the way hither, we observe the names of Sol Hirsch, Geo E. Cole, S A. Clarke, T G Young.

Hon H G Struve, of the Olympia Courier, has, we learn, been compelled to retire from editorial labors for the present in consequence of general ill health.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Miss Derry has returned to the city and the ladies are hereby informed that she can be found in Dekum's building, second floor.

Under the head of "Good News," Miss Macnamara announces to the ladies of this city that the latest styles in bonnets are shortly to be opened. We are not very good judges of millinery goods, but what we have seen of the new stock leads us to believe that when the ladies see the styles there will be a grand rush to Miss Macnamara's.

A. Ehman builds neat and substantial cottage houses, hard finished, for $850. Prices for story and a half and two story houses reasonable in proportion. Plans of houses on hand. Inquire at 105 First street, opposite postoffice.

If you want the woven wire bed, parlor and bedroom suits, the best spring and pure hair mattresses, go to Hurgren & Shindler.

Remember the Noon Day Prayer Meetings at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A., corner of Stark and First street, from 12½ to 1 o'clock.

OREGON STATE DENTAL SOCIETY.

The different members of the dental profession throughout Oregon, having long felt the need of a State organization that would permit them to keep pace with and reap the same benefits as their Eastern brethren, met in Portland, March 29th, at 8 o'clock P. M., holding their meeting in Dr Hatch's rooms, and organized a State Dental Society, by the election of the following officers: President, Dr J H Hatch, Portland; Vice President, Dr L S Skiff, Salem; Corresponding and Recording Secretary, Dr Wm F Thompson, Portland; Treasurer, Dr John Welch, Portland.

After the organization was perfected, the following persons signed the Constitution and By-Laws, becoming members of the Society: Drs J H Hatch, L S Skiff, Wm F Thompson, John Welch, L L Nicklin, Geo W Gray, J [illegible], F R Carlwell.

After a short intermission, for refreshments the Society met and was called to order by the President, in the dental rooms of Messrs Thompson & Welch, when a very interesting paper was read by Dr Chance, upon gold pointed instruments to be used as pluggers; also explaining, in his opinion, their superior merits over steel. After reading the paper the subject was taken up and fully discussed by the different members present. Dr Chance also presented to several members an assortment of his instruments to be tested, and by them reported on at the next regular meeting of the Society.

A motion was made and carried that the next regular meeting of the Society be held at Dr Skiff's rooms, in Salem, on the last Wednesday in June.

It was decided that the subject for discussion at the next meeting be "Exposed Dental Pulps and their Treatment."

Dr Gray was also appointed to prepare and read an essay before the Society at that time.

A motion was made and carried that a Clinic be held on Monday, March 31st at 10 o'clock A M., and that when the Society adjourned, it should meet at that hour.

On motion the Secretary was instructed to prepare copies of the proceedings for publication in the daily press of the city and also to furnish and forward a copy for publication in the Dental Cosmos.

On motion, the Society then adjourned until Monday (to day) at 10 o'clock A M.

WM F THOMPSON, Secretary.

From the Capital

SALEM, March 2[illegible], 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

It was our good fortune to be delayed in Salem till to-day, as we were, per consequence, afforded an opportunity to attend a sociable event which transpired at Reed's Opera House on Friday evening. The affair in question was the long-talked of "Firemen's Sociable," which had been in course of preparation, for some time past, by the ladies of the various churches and social circles of the city. The hall was decorated with numerous articles from the several engine houses of the Fire Department, giving the visitor at once an idea of the object of the entertainment. We were surprised to see the house so crowded, the weather during the evening being quite unpleasant. The programme consisted of recitations, vocal and instrumental music, etc., each performance receiving a round of applause. We will not particularize, preferring to leave that to the press of this city. Owing to the haste in preparation, several pieces were omitted. At the conclusion of the first part (musical) a feast of good things, in the shape of coffee, cakes, chicken, meats, etc., was distributed free to the audience, after which the young men promenaded about the hall in company with their lady friends, who, by the way, appeared on the occasion in large numbers. Sociability seemed to reign supreme, and the ladies, one and all, spared no pains to make all present feel perfectly at home. We speak boldly and fearlessly, because we know how it was. We learn that the sum of $200 was netted, which will be used in the purchase of caps, belts, and other articles needed by the "boys." Affairs of a similar character have been given of late, the proceeds being donated to the relief of the needy living in Salem and vicinity.

There is a decidedly strong support manifested in favor of the opposition line, as I observed by the shipments on the Grover. If the shippers will make good their promises, there is no fear of the new line failing in bringing the other Company down to a living freight tariff. "Live and let live," is the motto of the new Company, and, as we understand it, of the people "along the line." Now is the time to set this matter of freights to rights, and we shall see how clean the new broom sweeps.

T B Odeneal, Superintendent of Indian Affairs, is over in Wallowa valley looking after the Indian trouble in that vicinity.

The publishers of the Democratic papers up the valley anticipate an increased list of subscribers by the change in the Herald.

During the week there has been a heavy fall of rain, which has, in a great measure, had the effect of putting a "damper" on business. Work on the various new buildings has been suspended in consequence, although plasterers and painters can proceed with their portion of the work.

For the present, the new library room is located in the Opera House block. Mr. C E Burrows is working energetically towards making the institution a success.

Several merchants are absent from the city buying spring goods.

CIRCULAR.

The President and Board of Directors of the Oregon State Temperance Union to the Friends of Temperance throughout the State:

"Be sure you are right, then go ahead," is the safest and surest rule to which men, either individually or collectively, have ever given their attention.

The observation and experience of all past ages furnish us with a host of witnesses, both positive and negative, unanimously corroborating the truth of the proposition.

If we heed the warnings of past failures, and the instructions of those movements which have been crowned with success, we will labor only in the promotion of those undertakings which are right, and employ only the right means for their accomplishment. Whilst this is the rule by which all honest persons square their actions, it is the one especially to be used in a work so great as is the temperance movement. The organization which will be most successful in the promotion of this great work must be so constituted as to bring together those, and those only, who are true and tried temperance men and women, and whose sole object is the liberation of our fellows from the ravages of the monster enemy, intemperance.

To effect such an organization, and to eventually, yet speedily realize its desirable and unquestionable results, was the prime motive of the founders of the Oregon State Temperance Union. Our Constitution provides that only societies making the cause of temperance one of the chief and distinct objects of their organization, and churches that enjoin temperance as a rule of faith and practice, shall be entitled to representation in the Union. Every delegate is required to subscribe to the following pledge in the presence of the Union: "I pledge myself to abstain forever, from the use of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and to use every honorable and legitimate means to discountenance their use and sale in the community, and place the highest and most stringent barriers against the growing evils of intoxication and the liquor traffic."

With these specifications and by this obligation it may be reasonably expected that the Union will be a convention of untrammeled persons, free to put forth every energy against the giant evil. We therefore, most earnestly ask the hearty assistance and co-operation of all those churches and societies coming under the purview of Article 2, of our Constitution. And especially do we request such societies and churches to send a full delegation to our meeting, to be held in Albany on Friday, the 13th day of June next, according to the following basis of representation and rules established by the President and Board of Directors:

All societies and churches shall be entitled to one delegate for each organization, and one for each 25 members, and one for each fractional 12 members. It has been further enacted that no person shall be admitted as a delegate who is not 18 years of age. It is also recommended that all delegates be chosen on or before the 15th of May, and their names and credentials with those of their alternates, be sent immediately to R Reid, Salem, Oregon, Secretary of the Board of the Directors.

It is also recommended that in localities where many members are liable to be represented more than once by being members of the different temperance organizations, and also of one or other of the churches, that each church and society ascertain, as nearly as possible, the number of members it has who will be represented from some other organization, and deduct one half of that number from its membership, sending delegates from the remainder according to the prescribed basis.

Each delegation must be furnished with credentials from the proper officers of the society sending it, of substantially the following form:

To the Honorable Board of Directors of the Oregon State Temperance Union, Greeting:

This is to certify that   have been duly elected delegates to the session of the Oregon State Temperance Union, to be held at Albany, Oregon, June 13, 1873 from   a temperance society (or religious body) located at   which enjoins the duty of temperance as a rule of faith and practice and as one of the chief and distinctive features of its organization; that the said (name of society) has an actual bona fide membership of   over and above those otherwise entitled to representation in the Union, that the said delegates are known and approved temperance men and women, and we cordially commend them, as such, to the favor of the Union.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF we have hereunto set our hands at   this   day of   1873.

(To be signed by the pastor or other chief officer of the society, and countersigned by the Secretary.)

It is regarded as important that the credentials be forwarded promptly as above directed for the reason that the Board of Directors are required to act as a Committee on credentials, and to have the list of delegates complete before the meeting of the Union.

Please have the foregoing publicly read before the organization to whom it is directed.

By order of the President and Board of Directors of the Oregon State Temperance Union.

R REID,
A F [illegible]LATON, Committee.
SYL. C SIMPSON, Cor Sec'y.
Salem, March 26, 1873.

From the Modocs

From the Yreka Journal of the 25th we extract the following concerning movements at the seat of the Modoc war:

CAPT JACK AT THE OLD PLACE.

Capt Jack is still at his old quarters in the lava bed, not having moved to another cave, as had been surmised about a week ago. Jack wants Fairchild and Meacham to come and talk with him. He also wants the horses taken by the soldiers returned. Whether Meacham or Fairchild will conclude to go and talk to Jack again is a matter of doubt, meanwhile Odeneal will probably arrive within a week or two, when the Commission machine will get into working order again. The four children reported to have been captured by the soldiers, when taking the horses, have no doubt been found by this time, which will relieve their minds some from the fear of having a talk. These Indians are such infernal liars that the report of losing the children may be a made up story for effect, as they have been eternally trying to prove that they are enlightened, and that the military are the savages.

The interviewers of Capt Jack are beginning to think it is playing too big a risk with fortune to try the experiment any further, and are not any way anxious to trust the gentle savages. The danger lies greatly in the liability of an accidental shot being fired by the Indians armed to the teeth with shooting implements. If one of their pistols should go off accidentally, the soldiers would be on them in a hurry, and the interviewers would have a poor show for their lives. At the last talk, Scarfaced Charley had a Spencer carbine, on each side of which he had seven marks, whether to signify he had killed seven men, or what it meant, was not known, but Charley ranks as a principal fighter in the band. Each Indian present, besides having good guns, were also armed with revolvers. If the Indians are given a brush for a couple of days, and receive a slight dose of shells, from what they call double shooting cannons, they may be disposed to have a talk, and accept terms to go to Angel Island or anywhere else Gen Canby may desire.

SEEKING RECRUITS.

We have been informed that a Modoc squaw lately visited Hamburg John, a Klamath Chief, residing at Hamburg Bar on Klamath river, just below the mouth of Scott river, where a number of Klamath river Indians reside. The squaw brought word from Capt. Jack, asking him to join the Modocs, and that as soon as grass comes, Capt. Jack would leave the lava country and commence burning ranches. Hamburg John so stated to Messrs. Leonard, Meyers and Perkins at Hamburg Bar. It was also stated that an Indian living on the Klamath, above that place, near Daggett's ranch, said he was going over to join the Modocs shortly.

GONE FOR HELP.

Donald McKay left for the Warm Spring Reservation yesterday for a band of Indians. He will return in sixteen or seventeen days at farthest, with from 50 to 100 men. This looks as though the war might drag on for two or three weeks yet, but I hope not.

We will not expect the fight to come off before the return of McKay, unless the Modocs attack the troops, which is not probable. They were very insolent in the interview, and overbearing in the extreme. One of them said: "Suppose you want to fight; why you don't fight; we are ready to fight you; Indian not afraid to die; be ready for fight now, you no fraid; why you no fight?" They will get enough of fighting as soon as all arrangements for capturing them have been completed, unless they come to terms. It is not intended that any shall escape to harrass the border after their defeat in the lava bed.

INDIAN CAMP MOVED.

The camp of the Modocs has been moved, and their women and children are some three miles farther in the center of the lava bed. Several beef cattle and twenty five horses were seen near where Jack is now camped, on the lake shore.

PRIVILEGES STOPPED.

It is not intended to permit any more opportunities of gathering beef cattle, but to restrict them to such diet as is theirs by nature. The troops are eager for a fight, and it would be a pity to disappoint them. But they will be wofully deceived if they imagine Capt. Jack and his band will be whipped without hard fighting and heavy loss.

SURROUNDED.

When the Modocs see the lava bed surrounded by a cordon of soldiers they may be induced to come to terms, especially when they learn the fearful array of Peace Commissioners to be launched at them. They certainly cannot withstand the latter if they do not fear the soldiers and Warm Spring Indians. These Indians are expected to trail up any Modocs who may escape from their fortress when defeated, as they will be in the event of another battle.

Wake Up the System

When the physical energies droop and the mind becomes lethargic, it may be taken for granted that the digestion is impaired and the liver derelict in its duty. Upon the condition of the stomach and liver depend the condition of the blood, and upon the quality of that fluid depends the vigor of the body and the capacity for brain labor. It is therefore of the utmost importance to men engaged in active pursuits, who are subject to attacks of bodily weakness and mental stupor or indifference, to know from what source they can obtain immediate and permanent relief. The tonic and anti-bilious stimulating elements combined in Hostetter's Stomach Bitters peculiarly adapt that genial preparation to cases of this kind. The rapidity with which it rouses the dormant powers of the muscular and nervous system, is marvelous. Acting first upon the digestive organs and through them upon the [illegible] of the body, the nerves and the brain, it renovates, refreshes and regulates, not only the corporeal powers, but the mind itself. As debility and its usual concomitant, mental torpor or depression, are often caused, and where they already exist are always aggravated by the damp and variable weather prevalent in the spring months, persons of feeble stamina and weak nerves should go through a course of this agreeable stimulant at this season, and, indeed, would derive great advantage from taking it at least once a day throughout the year.

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

Beautiful Woman.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM gives to the Complexion the Freshness of Youth.

HAGAN'S MAGNOLIA BALM overcomes the flushed appearance caused by heat, fatigue and excitement. It makes the lady of forty appear but twenty, and so natural and perfect that no person can detect its application.

By its use the roughest skin is made to rival the pure radiant texture of youthful beauty. It removes redness, blotches and pimples. It contains nothing that will injure the skin in the least.

MAGNOLIA BALM is used by all fashionable ladies in New York, London and Paris. It costs only 75 cents per Bottle. [illegible] sold by all Druggists and Perfumers.

WALTHAM WATCHES
IN Heavy Cases.

WE HAVE SENT GREAT NUMBERS OF THESE excellent Watches to our customers in the Pacific States, and all have given satisfaction. We have for several years sold more American Watches than any other house in the country, either wholesale or retail, and the reason is that our prices are low and we only sell a good article. Our plan is to send single Watches by Express to any place, no matter how remote, with the bill to collect on delivery, to let the purchaser open the package and examine the Watch, and be perfectly satisfied before paying the bill, and we offer, for any Watch that does not prove satisfactory, to

Refund the Money

If you will write for our Descriptive Price List, we will mail it to you without expense, and from it you will see that you can buy a genuine Waltham Watch of us at the lowest possible New York prices, and without any risk whatever. We send so many Watches to the Pacific States that we always have 4, 6, 8 and 8 oz. cases on hand, so as to fill orders promptly. When you write, mention that you saw this notice in the Portland (Or.) Oregonian, and if you want reference we can name persons in every county on the coast that have had Watches from us. Judge Lynch in Egypt

TWO ENGLISHMEN HANGED.

The Alexandria, Egypt, correspondent of a London paper says:

"A few days ago the visitors at the Cafe de l'Europe were startled by the reports of some shots, by piercing yells, and the general rush toward the adjoining tavern known as the 'Sailor's Home.' Dr Panolli, a physician of some prominence, rushed into the tavern and found Alphonse Burrey, a young monk, insensible on the floor and his clothes covered with blood. He had an ugly wound in his breast and another in his abdomen. He died immediately. Father Burry had been a great favorite, for he had on several occasions rendered signal service by controlling riotous outbreaks. The report was current that Barry had been foully murdered by two foreigners, and consequently the excitement grew wild. The cry of 'Lynch them! Lynch them!' was heard, and was immediately answered by thousands. The entire crowd rushed toward the near by 'bureau de police,' where the prisoners had been taken to, surrounded the building and then demanded the delivery of them. Captain Dua, in charge of the station, refused. A rush was made toward the main entrance and the door burst open. Captain Dua and all his assistants were secured, and the two prisoners dragged like dogs through the street. A deafening yell greeted their appearance, and without permitting them to make a statement, they were hung to the lamp post immediately in front of the station. A strong detachment of of soldiers arrived on the spot, but as the crowd quietly dispersed no arrests were made.

"On the following day Charles Deflame, steward, and Oscar Laura, assistant engineer of the British steamer Williams were missing, and as news of the lynching had reached the officers of the steamer, they at once proceeded to the police station, where they found the bodies of Deflame and Laura. The Captain testified that both men bore excellent characters, and had been such intimate friends that they had sworn never to part. Deflame was an extreme zealot concerning the Protestant religion. He had once before, in Southampton, narrowly escaped death while insulting some strict adherents of the Church of Rome, and a similar difficulty lead to his friend's untimely death. The two men had some two years ago obtained their respective positions on the Williams and arrived at Alexandria only two days prior to the fatal day.

Subsequently they went ashore, and in the afternoon entered the Sailor's Home. Alphonse Burrey, a young monk, entered. Quite a number of them were in the dining and adjoining bar-room, and many rushed toward him to receive his blessing. Father Burrey had just returned from a funeral, and was about to visit the lady of the house, who was dangerously ill. Deflame was closely observing the crowd around the monk, and suddenly turning toward Laura, said, 'Those confounded fools,' when a fierce looking Egyptian, who unfortunately understood English, translated the remark to the bystanders. The common Egyptian never forgives an insult to his religion. Knives were drawn and a rush made toward the strangers. Laura and Deflame were well aware of the danger and retreating to the end of the room, drew their pistols and fired. At this moment the young monk had forced his way through the party, and in trying to prevent bloodshed received the fatal shot himself. The authorities have ordered a rigid investigation, but according to the way justice is handled in Egypt the result thereof may be easily told."

A Brisk Debate in the English House of Commons

A London despatch of March 21st furnishes the following outline of a spicy debate in the House of Commons:

In the House of Commons this evening Gathorne Hardy moved an address to the crown praying that the Government be instructed to dissent from the three international rules adopted by the Court of Arbitration at Geneva. Hardy, in the course of an able speech in support of his motion, declared that in making it he had no party object, nor did he intend to cast the slightest imputation on the fairness of the arbitration. His disclaimer was received with cheers.

Forster opposed the motion because it practically called for a vote of censure on the arbitrators, who adopted the rules. The rules affected the United States as much as England. No other nation was interested. If we object to them it will appear as if we were smarting under a sense of having to pay the compensation awarded, and united action between America and England hereafter, in case of war with or between other Powers, would be impossible.

Vernon Harcourt spoke strongly in favor of the motion. He declared the rules never held water, and said the best thing possible was to request the United States Government to withdraw them and substitute others which, in the event of war, would not make neutrality intolerable.

William Rathbone was opposed to disturbing the decision of the Geneva Board. He argued that the rules only required England to enforce her own laws. If they were repealed England's commerce would be ruined forever in the very next war. He hoped the House would not reverse the Government's just and statesmanlike policy.

Gregory (conservative) sharply criticised the action of the Geneva Board in imposing dangerous liabilities on neutrals.

Samuel Laig spoke against the motion.

Sir Stafford Northcote was disposed to favor it. He asked whether the Government really accepted the ideas involved in these rules. If it did they ought to be made law.

Attorney-General Sir J. Duke Coleridge asked whether it was wise and dignified to pass such opinions as that of the honorable gentleman's address indirectly conveyed upon the conduct of the arbitrators, whom the country, through Parliament, had thanked for their services. He continued: "We must submit to the award made at Geneva. We had better hold our tongues and pay the money. He confessed it would be impossible to submit the rules to other Powers for adoption without a distinct statement of the extent to which England consents to be bound thereby."

Disraeli was glad the Government intended to come to some understandinging with the United States in regard to these rules. He hoped they would do so speedily. Then the two Governments could jointly lay the rules before the other Powers for their consideration.

Gladstone concurred in the view of the subject taken by Disraeli. He believed the rules would lose their force if England alone submitted them to the Powers. The Government's opinion was unchanged. He assured the House the matter had not and would not be neglected.

The motion was then withdrawn and the debate ended.

The Airless Moon

Among the illusions swept away by modern science was the pleasant fancy that the moon was a habitable globe, like the earth, its surface diversified with seas, lakes, continents, and islands, and varied forms of vegetation. Theologians and savants gravely discussed the probabilities of its being inhabited by a race of sentient beings, with forms and faculties like our own, and even propounded schemes for opening communication with them, in case they existed. One of these was to construct on the broad highlands of Asia a series of geometrical figures on a scale so gigantic as to be visible from our planetary neighbor, on the supposition that the moon people would recognize the object, and immediately construct similar figures in reply. Extravagant and absurd as it may appear in the light of modern knowledge, the establishment of this Terrestrial and Lunar Signal Service Bureau was treated as a feasible scheme, although practical difficulties, which so often keep men from making fools of themselves, stood in the way of actual experiment, but the discussion was kept up at intervals, until it was discovered that if there were people in the moon they must be able to live without breathing, or eating, or drinking. Then it ceased. There can be no life without air. Beautiful to the eye of the distant observer, the moon is a sepulchral orb—a world of death and silence. No vegetation clothes its vast plains of stony desolation, traversed by monstrous crevasses, broken by enormous peaks that rise like gigantic tomb-stones into space; no lovely forms of cloud float in the blackness of its sky. There daytime is only night lighted by a rayless sun. There is no rosy dawn in the morning, no twilight in the evening. The nights are pitch dark. In daytime the solar beams are lost against the jagged ridges, the sharp points of the rocks, or the steep sides of profound abysses, and the eye sees only grotesque shapes relieved against fantastic shadows black as ink, with none of that pleasant gradation and diffusion of light, none of that subtle blending of light and shadow which make the charm of a terrestrial landscape. A faint conception of the horror of a lunar day may be formed from an illustration representing a landscape taken in the moon in the centre of the mountainous region of Aristarchus. [illegible] nothing but dead white and black. The rocks reflect passively the light of the sun, the craters and abysses remain wrapped in shade, fantastic peaks rise like phantoms in their glacial cemetery, the stars appear like spots in the blackness of space. The moon is a dead world. [illegible] has no atmosphere.—[illegible], in Harper's Magazine for March.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE

Financial.

SATURDAY EVENING, March [illegible] 1873.

Gold in New York today, 116¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates [illegible] buying [illegible] selling.

Gold bars [illegible] at 800 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California [illegible]

The foreign bankers in New York (says the Express) [illegible] their credits [illegible] One reason assigned for this is the low rates current for foreign exchange, [illegible] another and still stronger cause at work. Private advices from conservative bank[illegible] London [illegible] advise great caution, and base such advice on the fact that, while money is easy at London, there is an unsettled feeling in regard to the future. In the open market at London money is very cheap on short loans with Government securities as collateral, and many capitalists there lend their funds [illegible] in this way so as to be prepared for any emergency which may arise out of the political complications on the Continent. The British ministerial crisis has increased this feeling of caution and conservatism on the part of London capitalists.

In New York the money market appears, by recent advices, to be working a little easier, and borrowers find less difficulty in obtaining the needed accommodations on call at 7 per cent in currency to this figure in gold. Among stock speculators the transactions in this way are in many cases made at an additional commission. First class commercial paper is quoted by dealers at [illegible] 12 per cent per annum discount. But little relief is expected for some time to come. The first of April is an annual settlement day in many parts of the country, and it is probable that more or less currency will flow to the interior, which may necessitate a further contraction of the bank loan. At the same time remittances from the interior are coming in slowly. The New York bank statement shows that the banks last week are $264,200 under the 25 per cent reserve, against $201,875 last week.

This condition of affairs at London may possibly be felt here later in the season when large amounts of borrowed sterling fall due. In April there will undoubtedly be some heavy settlements of bankers' credits in New York, and some parties have already begun to prepare for such settlements, and early in the week sight bills for April were sold at 10¼ over, one per cent in excess of the rate current for present delivery. Late in the week there were transactions at 109¼ for April.

The London Economist of March 1, has the following:

The steady decline of the American Exchange for the last few weeks is a phenomenon which should be watched with some care. Lately we have been receiving small supplies of gold from New York with an exchange at 110⅛, at which the operation would hardly pay even with money at 4 per cent. Now the rate has crept down to 108½, and with money at 3½ per cent, the continuance of shipments from New York is not to be expected if indeed the balance should not incline the other way. We pointed out lately how unusually small the balance of gold in the United States Treasury had become, and this scarcity of the American stock can only be slowly replenished from the annual production of the country. The scarcity in New York is, moreover, connected with a tightness in the money market there which may help to cause a sudden demand for bullion, although paper is there a legal tender. The New York banks have never fairly recovered from the chronic stringency in the course of which last September, they committed a breach of their banking law by allowing their stock of gold and legal tenders to fall below the minimum proportion of 25 per cent of their liabilities.

The Economist then cites the condition of the New York banks on February 8, when they had $2,188,150 lawful money above the 25 per cent requirement. Since then the banks have run considerably under the 25 per cent line. The Economist continues:

This is a very small margin to keep for so great a banking system as that of the United States, and the banks which are so near the limit of transgressing their law will be certain to do all in their power to increase their margin, and if anything like a panic should be threatened the pressure will be most severe. The difficulties in the autumn in America may be very great, seeing that there is great stringency now at a period of the year when money is usually cheap.

Sail Vessels to San Francisco.

We are in receipt of a letter from San Francisco concerning the increased facilities for transportation between that port and this, from which we extract the following. The writer says:

EDITOR OREGONIAN: It may be a matter of interest to Oregon merchants to know that the rates of freight between San Francisco and Portland have been very materially reduced on nearly all lines of merchandise, particularly groceries, and also that whether there continues to be two lines of vessels, or only one, the rates will be kept largely below the rates ruling last year, and so much below steamer rates as to induce the shipment of large quantities of freight by sail which have heretofore gone by steamers. This is rendered both necessary and wise by reason of the largely increased amounts of Oregon produce, lumber, etc., which is seeking shipment to and from Portland and Columbia river, thus requiring a larger number of vessels than formerly.

For several summers past the rush of freight to steamers for Portland has been so great as to often compel teams to stand in a long line for several days waiting their turn to discharge, and large amounts of freight have each steamer been turned away, or only received to lie on the wharf till next steamer. This new action on the part of sailing vessels while it will take large quantities of steamer freight, will serve to give promptness to the forwarding of merchandise, and save large expense and much annoyance to shippers and relieve in a measure the pressure on steamers.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax, for this port from San Francisco, will be due on Tuesday evening next.

The steamship California arrived Sunday morning from San Francisco. She will load here for Victoria and way ports.

The bark Webfoot has discharged her cargo and will probably load with lumber at some point down the Columbia.

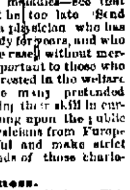
TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,



623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of those horrible, life destroying maladies—see that they are cured and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice of depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Postoffice or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. ly5d&w

Has created many a new business;
Has enlarged many an old business;
Has revived many a dull business;
Has rescued many a lost business;
Has saved many a failing business;
Has preserved many a large business;
And insures success in any business.

GIRARD'S SECRET.—Stephen Girard used to say in his old age: "I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule to advertise in dull times as well as busy times, long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out, as by continually keeping my business before the public it has secured many sales that I otherwise would have lost."
